NERVE AND POWER GOVERNMENT WANTS

Messrs. Walthour and Bill, World's Champion Roller Cyclists, Credit Their Power of Endurance and Nerve to DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY. They Say It Is Their Only Stimulant and Tonic.

MESSRS. WALTHOUR AND BILL

While in Boston, on September 17, 1902, these gentlemen were interviewed by a newspaper correspondent as to what they used to give them power of endurance and keep up their nerve. Both replied: "We use Duffy's Pure Malt Whisky, and nothing else. It is a great stimulant and tonic; it gives us more endurance than any food we ever tried. We do not know what we would do without Duffy's Pure Malt Whisky. It keeps us from

Is an absolutely pure, gentle and invigorating stimulant and tonic; builds up the nerve tissues, tones up the heart, gives power to the brain, strength and elasticity to the muscles and richness to the blood. It brings into action all the vital forces, it makes digestion perfect, and enables you to get from the food you eat the nourishment it contains. It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. It strengthens and sustains the system, is a promoter of good health and longevity, makes the old young and keeps the young strong.

Seven thousand doctors prescribe and 2,000 hospitals use Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey exclusively.

Seven thousand doctors prescribe and sow hispania as the property of the exclusively.

CAUTION—When you ask for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. Unscrupulous dealers, mindful of the excellence of this preparation, will try to sell you cheap imitations and so-called Malt Whiskey substitutes which are put on the market for profit only, and which, far from relieving the sick, are positively harmful. Demand "Duffy's," and be sure you get it. It is the only absolutely pure malt whiskey which contains medicinal, health-giving qualities. Look for the trade-mark, "The Old Chemist," on the label.

The genuine Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sold by all druggists and grocers, or direct, at $1.00 a bottle. Write for free medical booklet, containing symptoms and treatment of each disease and convincing testimonials, to the Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

CAPTAIN FERNANDEZ

Disappears With Money Belonging to Starved Immigrants of the Bark Vera Cruz.

RELIEF WILL COST $20,000.

Description of the Inhuman Treatment of Sufferers on Beached Vessel Like Story of the Old Slave Ships.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL

Washington, May 16.-All the resources of the Secret Service of the Treasury Department are being brought into play to capture Captain Fernandez, the master of the bark Vera Cruz III, that was beached near Ocracoke Inlet, N. C., more than a week ago, with 417 starving immigrants on

The story of the voyage of the Vera Cruz III reminds one of the days of the slave ships. The immigrants are natives of the Cape Verde Islands. They were induced to come to America by the fact that there is a large and prosperous Portuguese settle-ment in Eastern Massachusetts. The brig of which Captain Fernandez was master vas med in the Cape Verde Islands. It is a very old vessel and unseaworthy.

The captain got his cargo of immigrants by sailing from point to point around the islands. Most of them paid exorbitant passage money, and when they went on be rd deposited all the funds they possessed in the world with the captain for safe-keeping.

The brig was inadequately provisioned. had a scanty supply of water and the immi-grants were packed together like cattle. The ship had bad weather most of the time, and it is reported that the captain was intoxicated during the trip.

The destination of the brig was New Bedford, and the vessel had a small cargo of oil. She met adverse winds and was blown out of her course and the provisions, which had been scarce at the start, soon ran so low that the immigrants were put on one

Water also ran out, and for several days prior to the beaching of the Vera Cruz in Ocracoke Inlet, not a man, woman or child among the immigrants had a drop to drink. The Captain said that he would run into Ocracoke to get food and water, and would then proceed to New Bedford.

When the ship went ashore he immediately disappeared, made his way to the mainland and no trace has been had of him since. He took with him the seamen's wages, the passage money paid by the immigrants and more than $5,000 in cash that had been entrusted to his care by the nassengers.

ALL REDUCED TO SKELETONS.

Scarcely a soul on board the brig was able to stand. They were almost skel-etons from lack of food, their tongues were swollen with thirst, most of them were crazed from drinking salt water and all were violently ill. were violently ill.

In the emergency quick action was neces-sary, and the revenue cutter Boutwell, at Norfolk, was sent to the assistance of the crew and passengers. When the immigrants received food their stomachs refused to retain it, and the whole 417 had to be carefully nursed back to life.

They were finally removed to Newborn, where they were housed in a large building which was inadequate for their accommowhich was inadequate for their accommodation, and many were sent to the hospital. # TULLOCH'S CHARGES OF

Postmaster General Payne, After Reviewing Fifty Pages of Allegations, Says They Are "Glittering Generalities."

ADMITS SOMETHING IS WRONG.

Congress Will Be Asked to Investigate Alleged Irregularities Under This and Preceding Administration-Comptroller Involved.

The Republic Bureau. Washington, May 16.—The Post-Office De-partment has received the charges, carefully drawn up by Seymour Tulloch against the management of certain divisions of the Repartment and of the Washington City Post Office. They will be made public within a few days. Mr. Tulloch has presented his complaint in statement containing fifty typewritten Postmaster General Payne continues his policy of attempting to poch-pooh at all charges, but was forced to admit that at least several pages of the Tulloch state-ment deserve careful investigation. General Payne describes Tulloch's com-plaints as "glittering generalities." and finds fault that it refers mainly to alleged irregu-larities in the department under Payne's predecessor, Mr. Smith. The spirit in which Tulloch's statement is received by the Postmaster General does not promise the responsive and thorough in-vestigation which it was hoped would be

In fact, the Postmaster General's com-In fact, the Postmaster General's comments and attempts to belittle the Tulioch statement and to discredit it without investigation shows there is little prospect for proper consideration of the complaints.

It is believed that Congress will be asked to take up the management of the Post Office during the present and preceding administration and make a thorough travel.

ministration and make a thorough investigation of the facts.

The manner in which the department is proceeding is regarded as peculiar, to say the least. Bristow, the Republican Fourth Assistant, is making whatever examination is to be made of irregularities charged in the office of the Republican First Assistant

Postmaster General, and in the Washington

Post Office, which is now in charge of Mer-ritt, who formerly served as Third Assistant Postmaster General. These three assistants have always been in close political and personal friendship, and it is pointed out that a more impartial official than Bristow should be selected to look into the alleged irregularities.

The tenor of General Payne's comments to-day on the Tulloch charges is proof enough that he is not favorably inclined to any one who complains of irregularities under his management of the department. He said to-day:
"Most of the statement is an airing of

Mr. Tulloch's own grievances, commenting on his own removal and putting in a lot of etters, etc., concerning it. "There are also included extracts from

"There are also included extracts from newspapers around the country, published in 1900, which deal in glittering generalities in criticisms of Postmaster General Smith." "Is there nothing specific?" was asked. "He refers to certain vouchers and pay-ments to certain people, which he claims to have been irregular," was the answer, "He reflects severely upon Comptroller Trace-well of the Treasury Department, but his well of the Treasury Department, but his statements are very general. Referring to the matter of the investigation, he offers no evidence or documents to substantiate what he says, except to refer to certain vouchers and people.

"I would say that he makes no new points, but covers the same ground he has heretofore covered in a general way.

"I am very greatly disappointed," remarked Mr. Payne, "for I looked for some help from Mr. Tuiloch.

"There are some of these things in here that need explanation," he continued, still turning over the pages of the report. "They look upon their faces as if there might be something wrong and they will be made the basis of an investigation."

Although General Payne was forced to

by Tulloch need investigation, it is clear enough from the general tenor of his com-ments that he does not regard them as worthy of serious attention. The effect of POSTAL FRAUD FILED such an opinion upon Payne's subordinate, Bristow, can easily enough be estimated. When the "investigation" is finished it will remain for Congress to turn on the light
